Province grants $90,000 to Kinark for new addition

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The Kinark Child and Family Services agency has been given $90,000 to pay for an addition and renovations to offices in Haliburton Village.

Victoria-Haliburton MPP Dennis Drainville announced the grant on behalf of community and social services minister Zanana Akande at a press conference at the Kinark offices on December 21.

Kinark director John Penn said the renovations will provide more office space and allow counsellors to meet with clients in a more private setting.

"In terms of Haliburton County, the reality is that as the population grows, there will continue to be pressure on all social services," said Drainville. "I've seen, over the years, the growing problems related to violence and abuse, both emotional and physical. No price is too heavy for us to pay in terms of the needs of children and their families."

Anticipating the funding would be approved, the agency has already begun work on the addition to the Haliburton offices in order to do the necessary outside work before winter conditions make construction impossible.

Penn said the designs for the renovations were based on the staff's assessment of how the needs of the clients can best be met.

This is the second major funding announcement by the New Democratic government in December.

Earlier, the Ministry of Natural Resources was allocated more than $350,000 for forestry and capital projects as part of the province's recession spending program.

Larry Elliott, program supervisor for the ministry of community and social services, says the money given to Kinark is out of the regular capital budget. "It's fortunate that it's available to this agency in this part of the province at this time (during the recession)," said Elliott.

Drainville says he hopes to make further announcements early in the New Year. He wouldn't specify how much money might be involved or how it will be allocated. "I'm working on a couple of projects," he said.

Kinark director John Penn, Victoria-Haliburton MPP Dennis Drainville and ministry of community and social services supervisor Larry Elliott examine the work being done on the expansion to the Kinark offices in Haliburton village.

Resolution has too many flaws

Lutterworth rejects environment petition

by Susan Grober

Lutterworth council won't support a resolution petitioning the provincial government on the environment.

At its last meeting, council members decided against endorsing a resolution passed by the Township of North Himsforth in November after they found they disagreed on too many points that were raised.

The resolution calls Canadians "the world's most prolific producers of garbage," adding that the country produces almost 20 million tons of waste each year, an average of 3.9 pounds a day for each citizen.

Because municipalities are desperately searching for new ways to dispose of garbage in an environmentally safe manner, the township has petitioned the new government through Minister of the Environment Ruth Grier as follows:

(A) Ensure the return of refillable containers by increasing deposits and raise the target from 30 per cent to 50 per cent within the next six months for the use of refillable containers;

(B) Reduce or ban the sale of beverages in non-refundable containers;

(C) Provide incentives to service stations to dispense bulk washer fluid and radiator antifreeze;

(D) Abolish the use of shrink wrap; and

(E) Encourage manufacturers to drastically reduce packaging materials for their products and encourage governments to use environmentally friendly products.

Councillor Maurice Boyd

felt it's a good idea to petition the government because "they're going to be the leaders in this thing."

He added that the resolution should also instruct the government to control the number of sizes of bottles, as well as the materials used in packaging.

Councillor Bill Valentine didn't like the idea of service stations dispensing bulk products.

"I wouldn't go along with C because there are still a lot of garages you can't trust, although most of them you can," he said.

Councillor Lisa Mercer agreed with Valentine, and suggested the resolution be scrapped.

"We can't endorse it if we keep picking at it," she said. "Parts of it are good, but there are parts of it I don't agree with."

Common ground must be sought among Canadians

The Times is pleased to present the first in a series of commentaries under the Canadian Forum banner.

We asked a number of area residents to provide us and our readers with their vision of the future of our nation. This series was conceived in response to the recent events surrounding the Meech Lake Accord, the continuing constitutional discussions and other forces at work in the country.

This week's commentary was written by Ada Campbell, a former resident of Minden, and a registered nurse, who recently returned to retire in the community.

While being active in the Reform Party of Canada, Mrs. Campbell notes that the opinions expressed in the column are hers personally.

by Ada Campbell

The people of Canada have been given a unique opportunity to express their thoughts and opinions via the Spicer Committee on the future of Canada. There are many questions on which we should be heard. One of the most timely and important one is: "Does Canada Have A Future?"

For the past hundred years or more, this country has been divided by language, culture, race, and in many cases, by religion. This division did not start with the Meech Lake Accord. The Accord was simply a larger Band-Aid than usual, to attempt to heal the wounds. But unless men and women of good-will begin to confront the issues that divide us, our country will continue to be divided, and in fact may never recover.

A common ground must be found to begin a dialogue of reconciliation. This country consists of many regions, each one equally as important as any other, and each region is rich in its diversity. Our leaders must recognize this fact, and use it to unite our land rather than to create division. All provinces, and territories, must be equal; be able to express their express their aspirations, their differences, with the knowledge they will be heard. Our native people and their culture must be respected, and given a special place in Confederation. This must include self-government in certain areas.

An elected Senate would go a long way in giving such a voice to each province, consequently improving the present system. The House of Commons, however, must retain power when dealing with certain issues common to all, such as defense, finance, and especially immigration. I believe the majority of the Provinces and territories will accept the above. The one exception would be the Province of Quebec.

Quebec has legitimate aspirations of forming its own sovereign nation. Most Canadians, such as myself, would prefer that Quebec remain an integral part of Canada. But we cannot and should not attempt to force Quebecers to accept our way of thinking. History, surely, has taught us this. For too long, politicians including the Fathers of Confederation, with the best of intentions, have been trying to appease both linguistic cultures. It cannot be done! Speaking personally, as well as for others with whom I have discussed this problem, it is widely felt that Quebec is a "favoured" province, receiving more attention than the rest of Canada. Regardless whether this is true or not, so long as the perception exists, there will be deep seated animosity.

Consequently, and with no prejudice intended, I would advocate that Quebec be assisted in every way to achieve its goal of forming its own nation.

The result would be a more amicable and co-operative relationship. This country cannot continue being torn apart for another century with the bitterness that is so prevalent. We are a house divided! For making such statements, I will immediately be accused by some as being racist. I can only assure you that it is not so.

I admire the leaders of Quebec for knowing what their people want, and going for it. We too must be realistic. The old ways have not worked; you cannot legislate understanding. It is time to explore new ground. Quebec has firmly stated her intentions separating, and we should not deny that right, even if we could. There will be enormous problems to problems to overcome, but it is not impossible.

The present bitterness, if not corrected, will eventually destroy all of Canada. Alienation is rampant in the West, while the Maritimes, as well as Newfoundland and Labrador, are feeling more and more isolated; all with justifiable cause. Strangely enough, many in Ontario are feeling equally isolated.

The French language is, and must remain, the official language of Quebec, and must always be so whether the Province chooses to stay in Confederation or not. Anyone choosing to live in Quebec must be willing to accept this fact. Perhaps for too long, Quebecers were denied that right.

But for the remaining 75% of the country; the official language can only be English. Anyone choosing to live in the rest of Canada, must also be willing to accept that fact. Bilingualism and biculturalism have been the major causes of discontent, not to mention the astronomical cost, all of which has added considerably to our national debt. Both of these must go! If a municipality wishes to add a second language to be taught in their schools to accommodate any minority they would be free to do so, at their own taxpayers expense. The most powerful nation on earth, the U.S.A. has one official language; at the same time linguistic minorities flourish. Public funding of immersion classes, radio programming, newspapers, etc would cease. Private means surely would finance these programs, if they are feasible.

Students learn early in life the differences in race, religions, cultures, etc. We, the parents, foster this attitude every day, in so many ways. We put our children in different schools (even bussing them many miles to do so) speak different languages, pray to a different God (in those few schools where it is not yet illegal), and we foster pride in their ethnic origin and ancestry. Don't misunderstand the remark concerning pride of ethnic origin. This is to be admired, but not to the point of divisiveness in Canada. Is it any wonder that racism and bigotry are so deep rooted in our society. When children are forbidden to play together in the same playground; when housing units built at public expense are designated so that unless you are of one race, or speak one particular language, you cannot live there; these and other restrictions must be questionable.

Every day more of these controversial actions are taken, but should not be tolerated. How can we ever unit a nation when such occurrences are becoming more widespread every day? There are well over 30 ethnic groups in Canada other than French-speaking or English-speaking. Each of these cultures has given Canada much enrichment, and has every reason to be proud of its own heritage. However, there are customs that are Canadian also, originating when the early settlers of whatever origin came to this land to carve out a life for themselves. These customs must also be inviolate. One example that readily comes to mind is the change in dress code of the R.C.M.P. — one of the most loved and respected part of our history in all parts of Canada. People who immigrate to Canada, and made welcome, must also respect the customs and heritage of their adopted country. Failure of some to accept our way of life has caused deep seated resentment, which has, unfortunately, surfaced in ways which can only be termed as "racial".

Can we not eliminate the hyphenated Canadian, whether we were born here, or chose this as our home. We must try to unite Canada. The "salad bowl" concept has proved to be a failure. Perhaps the "melting pot" theory will succeed.

Does Canada have a future? That question will be answered in the next ten years or less. If we are not willing to accept change, change will be forced upon us. Quebec is going to separate! That is not a question. That is a fact! We will have no say in the matter. Canada must begin thinking of ways to make the separation less painful, and more acceptable to all. We must, without delay, appoint the best people we can find, to form a Committee to work out the fairest method for the good of the entire Country. Québec is already well advanced with the establishment of their Belanger-Compeau Commission.

The Prime Minister has given a mandate to the Spicer Commission to listen to the average citizens voice their opinions. It cannot become a platform to air bigotry, but unless we make our feelings quite clear, what have we accomplished? Canada will have a future if we have the courage to accept change, and the new Canada that must evolve. That new Canada, hopefully, will be a more united place in which all can live with tolerance and understanding.

Lutterworth helps ease local CNIB's $5,262 deficit

by Susan Grober

A donation from Lutterworth Township Council will help relieve the Canadian National Institute for the Blind's $5,262 deficit in Haliburton County.

At last Thursday's meeting, council considered a letter from District Administrator David Hatton of the non-profit organization which assists local people cope with failing vision.

The CNIB provides a number of services for blind and visually impaired people in the county, at no cost to its clients. Because its income this year is insufficient to cover its costs, Hatton is requesting grants from each municipality to cover the deficit.

"Of course, if every municipality were able to do that, it would be Utopia," wrote Hatton.

The grant requests have been calculated by dividing the deficit amount by the total number of people living in the county, 11,945 according to the 1989 Municipal Directory.

This means it would take a per capita donation of 44¢ each to eliminate the deficit. So Lutterworth, with 784 residents, was asked to provide $344.96.

"Even if the Township of Lutterworth is unable to grant us $344.96, we still need your support, and any amount which you could grant us would be most appreciated," Hatton wrote.

An enclosed financial statement outlined the institute's income and expenses for the area in 1990.

This year's expenses for the period ending September 30 totalled $13,913, which is considerably less than the estimated $22,190. It is also much less than the 1989 total of $18,874.

Reeve Carol Puffer commended the organization for its presentation. "They're well below budget, and their expenses are very low," she pointed out.

However, according to the financial statement, the estimated total income of $16,928 fell short, to say the least. The actual to date is $2,643.

This includes an estimated $13,000 income gathered through CNIB campaigns which actually totalled $68.

"I'd like to support them," said Councillor Bill Valentine. "If we give them 350 bucks, we're giving them what they're asking for. And, frankly, they deserve it. They have a good program with talking books and other services. I know people they've helped."

Council agreed to authorize a $350 grant to the organization.

Attitudes

There is little doubt the challenges facing Haliburton County in the coming year will be many and diverse.

The current economic crisis rippling the nation will be felt, and for that matter is already being registered in this county. How heavily it impacts on the local economy can, to a certain extent, be reduced by taking an aggressive, positive stance.

The economy may be going through a down cycle, but that in no way diminishes the many attributes which make Haliburton County an attractive destination. Whether they come for just a day, a week, or have roots that run deep in the cottaged soil of the Highlands, every effort should be made to ensure each visitor leaves here impressed with the attention to detail and concern for his satisfaction offered by everyone with whom he dealt. Only by continuing the tradition of a friendly welcome and effort to please, can we ensure the continued goodwill and support of those people so vital to our local economy.

1991 stretches out before us, seemingly littered with land mines and pit falls. It could be a devastating year for the local economy or it could be one in which positive, forward-looking will help us over-come the challenges ahead.

The choice of how these challenges are approached are ours - just as surely as the consequences will be.

Just another rivulet in the Great Soviet Thaw

The chubby little guy with the strawberry-colored map of Albania on his balding forehead stopped in the Kremlin lobby, cleared his throat, and stepped up to the microphone.

"President Bush has 100 bodyguards," he continued. "One is an assassin, but he doesn't know which one."

Pause. Lay on that Jack-Benny pre-punch-line stare.

The Soviet President tells a joke. Not a great joke, to be sure. Nothing that John Crosbie or the Royal Canadian Air Farce would steal—but a joke. Told by a Russian. In public.

Just another rivulet in the Great Soviet Thaw, I guess. Not enough that they withdraw from Afghanistan, melt down their missiles, open the door to McDonald's and Pepsi franchises—now their leader

Well, nobody ever said Freedom was cheap.

Comrade, have you heard about the new contest in Pravda? They're looking for the funniest political joke of the year.

Really? What does the winner get?

Well, first prize is twenty years...

That's an old joke—and one that was whispered, not broadcast, back in the Bad Old Days. Of course, some hoary Russian chestnuts are hardy enough to withstand Glasnost and Perestroika.

Market Value Reassessment an unfair system of taxation

Editor:

As neighbours in Haliburton County, we should all be very clear about what the Ministry of Revenue officials are asking Township and County Councillors to quickly agree to at their January 1991 meetings.

If even a slim majority of Townships agree to their Market Value Re-Assessment Scheme (based on 1988 values), then all Townships - even those who reject it - will be forced into acceptance and will be obligated to future reassessments every 4 years, forever. This provision of Bill 12, passed in 1987, puts a heavy obligation on their shoulders to not only consider the present estimated tax increases or decreases for their constituents but also the future tax consequences over which they will have no vote or control.

Both permanent and seasonal residents of our County must have shared concern about the fairness of the Ministry's MVA proposal.

The present MVA system, used throughout the Province, demands that the exact same home in two different parts of our Townships (receiving identical services) will have two different "market values" merely because of their location and would be taxed at two different values.

To the extent that a home has appreciated at a greater rate than Township property values in general, that owner will pay a greater proportion of the total municipal tax bill. The owner will, therefore be subsidizing those whose properties have not appreciated as much.

His services will not have changed, and his income may not have changed, but nonetheless, he will be expected to pay more than his fair share of municipal taxes.

This burden applies to both seasonal and permanent residences, the elderly, and others in our community who purchased their homes many years ago and may not be able to cope with the substantial tax increases that will occur with reassessment.

Basing property taxes on "reassessed market values" is tantamount to taxing property owners on future unrealized capital gains and in fact, on capital gains that they may never realize during their lifetime. This is clearly an inappropriate and very unfair system of taxation.

Our basic concerns can be summarized as follows:

- 1988 is not an appropriate year to use as a base as it was the peak year for market values, 1992 would probably be more appropriate.
- the reliability of the Ministry statistics is questioned because they ignore shifts in sharing of education and county costs.
- the "ability to pay" consideration is ignored.
- the uncertainty due to constant reassessment breeds confusion.
- effects on equalization factors, grants and education taxes are unknown.
- neighbourhood disruption is encouraged between popular and less popular areas.
- increase in appeals could be costly.
- need to thoroughly understand the

Slur against volunteers of Staunworth was not deserved

Editor:

The recent reference, at a meeting of the Minden Council, calling the members of Staunworth Non-profit Housing Corporation a power block is truly an undeserved slur on a very dedicated volunteer group of citizens.

Reeve Ray Moore certainly spoke the truth when he pointed out that this group of community minded people don't get a damn nickel for their efforts.

Most of the members of this volunteer group have, during the past several years, attended many meetings and spent countless hours in the planning and conduct of the affairs of the senior citizen accomodation which their efforts have provided in Minden.

If there are some members of Minden Council who do not appreciate the work of the Housing Corporation, they can rest assured that the residents of Staunworth Senior Citizens' Apartments admire the work of this caring volunteer group.

Perhaps Russia is destined to get the last laugh

One Muscovite to another: "Hey Vladimir, why are you running?"

"I'm running to Kiev to buy cabbage!"

"Are you nuts? Haven't you heard of the shortages? The only cabbage available in all of Russia is right here in Moscow!"

"I know, but the lineup stretches to Kiev!"

That joke makes as much sense now as it did under Stalin, but a lot of jokes won't survive that transition and more than a few professional jokesters will have to go into comedy drydock for refitting.

Yakov Smirnof, for instance. Yakov's the ex-Russian who defected to America several years ago and has been surviving rather handsomely on the rubber chicken circuit by poking fun at the Great Gray Soviet Monolith.

Yakov Smirnof joke: In the United States you have freedom of speech. You can go up to Ronald Reagan and say, 'I don't like Ronald Reagan'. In the Soviet Union you have the same thing. You can go up to Chernenko and say, 'I don't like Ronald Reagan'."

Very old joke. Chernenko is dead. Ronald Reagan turned out to be more ossified than Gorbachev and Yakov Smirnof is a stand-up comic badly in need of new material.

Perhaps Russia is destined to get the last laugh. Let me throw one more comedy routine at you:

There are at the present time two great nations in the world...the Russians and the Americans...The American relies upon personal interest to accomplish his ends and gives free scope to the unguided exertions and common sense of the people. The Russian centers all the authority of society in a single arm. The principal instrument of the former is freedom; of the latter, servitude. Their starting point is different, and their courses are not the same; yet each of them seems marked out by the will of Heaven to sway the destinies of half the globe.

Hey. You're not laughing.

Would it help if I told you a Frenchman by the name of Alexis de Tocqueville wrote the foregoing? In 1835.

And that's no joke.

1990: A year for changes

by Susan Grober

Where 1989 was a time of unresolved issues, it seems 1990 can be remembered as a year of change.

The year opened with the people of this county feeling abandoned by the provincial government which took back its promises on the Haliburton Hospital expansion, left Dysart waiting for approval of a sewage treatment plant expansion, and ignored requests for funding of additional classroom space.

As 1990 closes, the hospital expansion project is to be revived, the sewage treatment plant has been approved, and the school board has decided to build accommodation with or without the government's help.

And the provincial Liberals have been kicked out of power by the discontented voters of Ontario.

Still, the road ahead is long and steep, and there will be many more frustrations along the way.

The following is an issue-by-issue look back at 1990:

County-wide official plan

This year, county councillors worked toward an initiative aimed at helping maintain the lakes and lands which bring people to the rapidly growing highlands of Haliburton.

Following strong recommendations from the Economic Development Strategy, local politicians began the process of establishing an official plan for Haliburton County.

An official plan works in conjunction with zoning bylaws to address growth patterns and to spell out exactly what type of development is to be permitted on any lands. Only three of the county's 10 municipalities — Minden, Cardiff, and Dysart — have official plans.

In January, a series of meetings were held between county councillors, municipal councillors, and representatives from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs. It was estimated it will cost between $100,000 and $150,000 to establish the plan.

In July, the county hired Mark Stagg as planner and economic development officer. Stagg will facilitate development of the official plan as one of his first challenges. Another challenge is to deal with restructuring of the county's 10 municipalities.

A flood was unleashed on Haliburton in May

In November, Dysart councillors voiced concerns that compensation should be made for those municipalities which already have official plans.

Dysart also felt the matter of restructuring should be dealt with before the official plan.

At the same time, Dysart, Stanhope and Minden councils complained about Stagg's proposal to hire a second planner for a planning service to be paid for on a user-fee basis.

Dam those beavers

Millions of gallons of murky water were unleashed on Haliburton Village in May after a beaver dam forming Moss Pond broke above the town.

The flood devastated many owners of residences and businesses, causing over a million dollars damage.

Locals pitched in to clean up the mess created when the water rushed over Park Street, washed away part of Pine Street, and pushed over to Maple Street and out into Head Lake.

In October, Dysart council learned the flooding was made more severe because of a township-built embankment which created a greater volume of water.

Meanwhile, the matter is still being dealt with by the municipality's insurance company as property owners await restitution.

Elementary schools lost faith

Religion classes at Haliburton County's elementary schools were dropped in February following an Ontario Court of Appeal ruling.

The Ministry of Education suggested the move to boards across the province after the court found a regulation in the Education Act allowing religious instruction to indoctrinate students in the Christian faith is in violation of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

In December, the education ministry under the new NDP government announced it will look into establishing guidelines for a curriculum which won't go against the Charter.

Just say 'non'

Those against called it bigotry.

But those in favour of an English-only resolution said it will cut down on unnecessary duplication of paperwork in English-speaking areas such as Haliburton County.

Many local governments quickly jumped the unilingual bandwagon in February by adopting resolutions declaring English the official language.

Lutterworth, Minden, Snowdon, Glamorgan, and Sherborne et al passed the resolutions. And, after a lively debate, county council passed the same with eight councillors in favour and five against.

The province-wide declarations of unilingualism were started by Sault Ste. Marie to counter bilingualism initiatives imposed by the Peterson government.

Grits get the old heave ho

Little did David Peterson realize that his announced September election would see the toppling of the Ontario Liberal government.

With 44 per cent of the vote, local New Democrat Dennis Drainville swept Victoria-Haliburton on September 6 to become a part of the first NDP government in this province's history.

The Gooderham resident beat out five other candidates in an exciting race to represent the riding in provincial parliament.

Progressive Conservative Ron Jenkins earned 26 per cent of the votes, and Liberal Pat O'Reilly earned 22 per cent.

Trailing behind were Brad Medd of the Family Coalition Party, Independent Hugh Boyd and Libertarian Ron Hawkrigg.

Drainville is among 77 members in Bob Rae's NDP government, as the party's province-wide victory crumbled the Liberal government and brought Premier Peterson to his knees in defeat.

In November, Drainville was elected Caucus Chairman, the facilitator for members of parliament who sets the agenda for weekly meetings.

Hospital expansion not disbanded

Hopes are still high that the NDP government will follow through with a promise to retrieve the Haliburton Hospital expansion project from the moth balls.

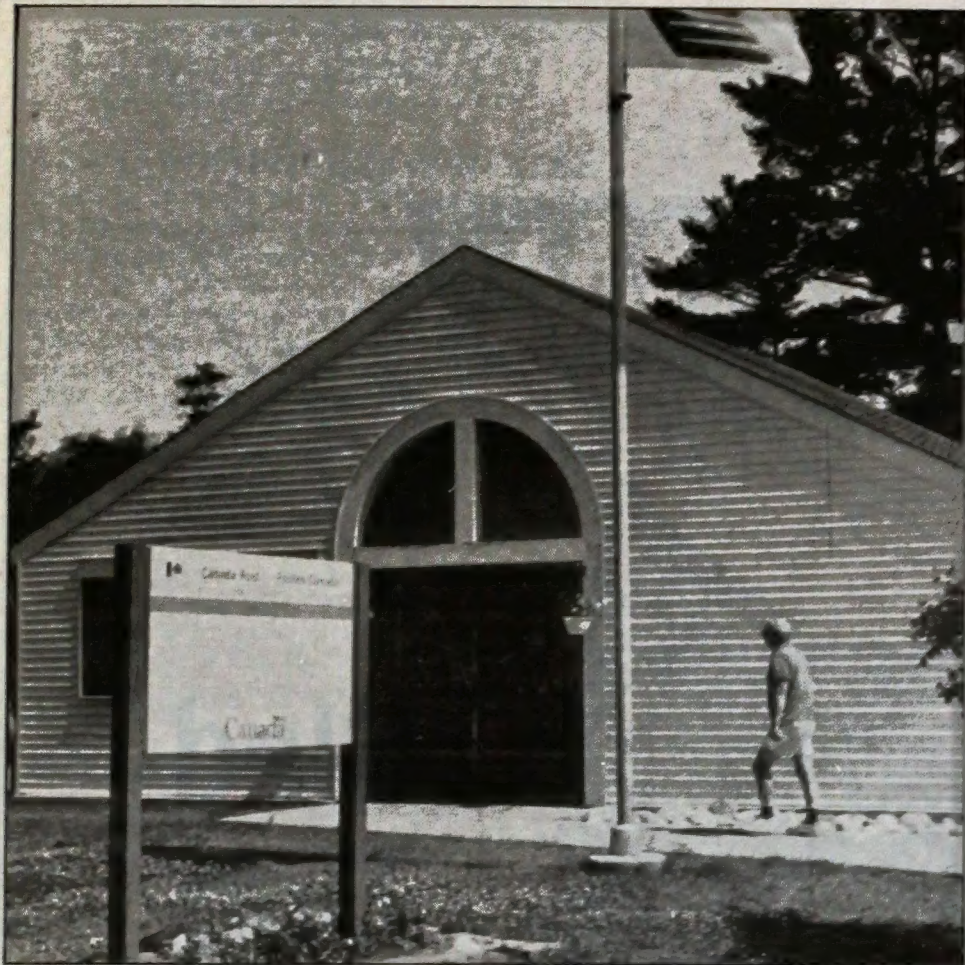

During the provincial campaign, NDP hopefuls Dennis Drainville and Bob Rae promised the 18-bed chronic care addition would be built if they were elected.

In early November, MPP Drainville said that, although the project has to compete with the government's attention with a number of other issues, the facility will be built in time.

Previously, the project was killed by the Liberal government in favour of a new study into the long-term health care needs of the county.

Olympic dreams dashed

Minden would have benefited from a tremendous tourism boost if Toronto had been chosen as the host city for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games.

In March, the Minden Wild Water Preserve was confirmed as the site for the white water slalom race event if Toronto's bid was successful.

But the dream was shattered on September 18 when it was announced the summer games would be held in Atlanta.

Sight site sought

Everyone thought the debate had died in 1989 when Ride for Sight organizers decided to leave Minden and hold the charity event at Peterborough's Trent University.

But the contentious issue over whether to allow the rowdy event again reared its ugly head when Ride organizers needed a new home.

It seems the Peterborough site is just too small for the massive fundraising event which brings in thousands of people, and last year raised $475,000 for the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation.

In September, Dysart council decided to revoke its invitation to host the 1991 Ride for Sight. So organizers again turned to Minden.

However, in October Minden council decided in a split vote not to accept the weekend event because of the large number of motorcyclists it attracts.

Later that month, a group of residents waged a battle and presented a 400-name petition to convince council to reconsider.

Although council stood fast on its decision, members also offered support for the event going to the South Lake Trailer Park in Snowdon.

But all was for naught. The 1991 Ride for Sight will be held in Fenelon Falls.

The Dysart shuffle

Dysart council shuffled its membership in January with the resignations of Reeve Murray Fearrey and Councillor Glen Hodgson.

Four of the seven council positions were affected by the shake-up.

Deputy-Reeve Bill Davis was promoted to the position of reeve. Ward 3 Councillor Lloyd Leadbeater was appointed deputy-reeve. And Dorothy Baker, who served on council in previous terms, was appointed to serve as councillor for Ward 3, which encompasses the Harcourt area.

But the most unusual move occurred when Fearrey, whose retirement after 14 years as reeve lasted only a few hours, was resurrected from private life to fill the Ward 5 vacancy created by Hodgson's resignation.

Sawmill hopes turned to sawdust

The Minister of Natural Resources signed the death certificate for the G.W. Martin sawmill in Harcourt and left 125 former employees without jobs.

In May, Lyn McLeod decided not to transfer the timber rights necessary for the mill to be sold to Robert Bury and Company.

The Crown timber rights were the last requirement for a deal that would have seen Robert Bury take over the sawmill, restart operations, and eventually expand to two full shifts.

In June, Dysart Reeve Bill Davis and others accused the minister of political patronage. Davis said the decision not to transfer the rights was made to benefit two sawmills located in Renfrew County, an area represented by Education Minister Sean Conway.

NDP forestry critic Bud Wildman

The past year brought a few disappointments

brought the issue of timber rights to the floor of the Ontario Legislature. Wildman, who is now Minister of Natural Resources, asked McLeod to give assurance that she didn't exercise political control in the decision to transfer the rights.

The only statement McLeod offered is that the government is willing to license the operation of the saw mill, and is only denying access to Crown timber.

A month later, the sawmill was resurrected when G.W. Martin accepted an offer by a Renfrew County lumber company.

The buyer was Frank Yantha Lumber, located in Renfrew County near Pembroke. The company is still seeking the lost Crown timber rights.

School board will ease the crunch

The board of education decided in July to build additions in Minden and Haliburton villages to deal with overcrowded classrooms in the elementary schools.

By increasing the size of Archie Stouffer Elementary School, the board hopes to eliminate the use of the former IGA building and portables.

An addition to J. Douglas Hodgson will replace classrooms in Victoria Street School, as well as the Lakeview school, which was sold to Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Although Haliburton County was left out of the Ministry of Education's five-year capital allocation program, the school board continues to lobby the province for funding.

Former MPP John Eakins

Eakins made an exit

After 15 years as the provincial representative of Victoria-Haliburton, MPP John Eakins announced in June he would call a close to his political career when the next provincial election was called.

The popular politician worked toward raising the profile of Ontario's tourism industry and improving the structure of municipal government. He spent two-year terms as Minister of Tourism and Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Eakins said the decision to retire was made to facilitate renewal of the Liberal party, the riding association, and himself.

Commotion in the County Town

Most of Minden council balked when county council decided to relocate the county office to the Allsaw Flats.

Council passed a resolution objecting to the move out of Minden Village, saying the building should remain in the heart of the County Town.

Minden Reeve Ray Moore was the only exception, saying the move to Highway 121 between Haliburton and Minden would be for the good of the county.

In July, Minden council was successful in its bid when the county agreed to locate the building on a five- or six-acre lot with access from North Water Street.

Norlanders forsaken by feds

Norland residents lost their fight against Canada Post's decision to close the local post office.

Canada Post announced the closure in July, and the doors to the post office building were finally locked on October 17.

Disgruntled residents now receive the service from the Norland Trading Company, and rural route service comes out of Cobocok.

Dysart sewer saga

In April, after two years of waiting, Dysart's proposed sewage treatment plant expansion and resort sewer line extension finally received approval from the Ministry of the Environment.

The $7 million project had been on hold since the summer of 1989 when two cottage associations requested the plant expansion be "bumped-up" to an Individual Environmental Assessment.

But resort owners were wise not to hold their breath. In July, they learned resorts will not be allowed to expand until a water quality study of Lake Kashagawigamog is completed.

Resorts were then faced with a financial gamble, because they must borrow money to hook onto a system with no guarantee they can expand their operations.

Still, in August, the resort owners affirmed their commitment to carry on with the project.

Trustees said goodbye

New job opportunities took two trustees away from the Haliburton County Board of Education.

In January, Ed de Grosbois resigned as Sherborne's trustee after accepting a promotion within the Ontario Ministry of the Environment in Toronto. He was replaced by fellow ministry employee John Munro.

In November, Linda Mumford resigned as Bicroft/Cardiff trustee after accepting the position of clerk for Cardiff Township, a job which would have put her in a conflict of interest. She is yet to be replaced.

And in December, Director of Education Stuart Baker announced he will retire at the end of the school year after 36 years in the county's education system.

News Briefs

New clerk familiar with area

Lutterworth Reeve Carol Puffer welcomed the township's new clerk at last month's council meeting.

"I'd like to officially express the fact that council is very happy to have Mary Jane Irwin as clerk, and look forward to working with her," said Puffer.

Irwin, who started on December 10, is a familiar face in the county as she was previously a secretary with Minden's municipal office.

Lutterworth won't pitch in

A request for funds made by the waste management group Pitch-In Ontario was pitched out by Lutterworth council.

Financial support is needed to supply schools, community groups, Scouts, Guides and others with free garbage bags, and posters for 1991 Pitch-In Week on May 6 to 12.

Lutterworth councillors agreed to turn down the request for $160.

OMB date confirmed

The Ontario Municipal Board has confirmed that a hearing for objections to a proposal made by Alan Coulter will take place on April 3.

The rezoning which was passed by Lutterworth Council has been objected to by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Stop sign spells safety

Lutterworth council passed a bylaw last month to place a stop sign on Black Lake Road where it meets Highway 35.

In other township roadways news, word hasn't been heard yet from Somerville regarding its objections to Lutterworth's proposal to reduce the speed limit on Somerville Boundary Road.

Ministry provides $550,000 to homemakers

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Emergency funding has saved the health unit's Integrated Homemakers Program (IHP).

The program, which is run by the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge Health Unit and funded by the Ministry of Community and Social Services, was in danger of shutting down when it ran out of money earlier this month.

But last week the ministry announced it will provide $550,000 to keep the IHP operating until the end of the fiscal year in March.

"We're really pleased," said Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman, who is Haliburton County's representative to the health unit. "A lot of people would have been in trouble if the program was lost."

The program is designed to enable seniors and disabled adults remain in their homes by providing house-keeping and meal preparation.

The local health unit has participated in the IHP since 1986 and is one of only 13 areas of the province offering the service.

In 1988/89, the health unit carried a total caseload of more than 5,400 clients. In Haliburton County, 742 people used the service.

According to Tallman, the program ran into financial trouble because the demand for the service exceeded the allocated funds.

Turnover in the program is quite high and clients usually only require IHP services for about a month.

Until March, Tallman says the health unit will maintain the current caseload and will only accept new clients as space becomes available.

Sled dogs set to mush

Spectators at the seventh annual Minden Techni-cal Challenge will once again see the world's best mushers competing in the world's largest limited-class speed race for sled-dogs. Five medallists have already signed up for the race which takes place on January 12th and 13th in cottage-country town of Minden, 200 kilometres north of Toronto.

They will be vying for a purse of $25,100—the largest in Canada—provided by race sponsor Martin Pet Foods of Elmira, Ontario. The winning mushers will also be eligible for maximum points in the contest for the world medal ranking awarded at the end of each season by the International Sled Dog Racing Association (ISDRA).

Race Governor Val Lougheed reports that the following 1990 ISDRA medallists have already registered. They include: Val Beland, Minnesota - Silver Medal -

School board initiative will promote community college

by Susan Grober

The transition from high school to college will be made a little easier thanks to a co-operative venture between the Haliburton County Board of Education and Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Director of Education Stuart Baker told trustees this month that many students need some encouragement to complete their secondary school education and go beyond to finish college.

While some students are calm about the idea of going to college, "many here have problems with the thought of relocating to Lindsay or Peterborough (to attend college). I don't think they have the inner security they really need."

One aim of the linkage agreement is to promote student awareness of college courses by providing secondary school credits with related college programs, and establishing a better liaison between secondary school staff and college instructors of related programs.

Often, college programs will duplicate studies already covered in secondary school, said Sir Sandford Vice-President Dr. Liz Ashton.

"It's ridiculous," she said. "It's nice to see we're finally starting to break down the barriers between the three school systems, because we're all in it together."

"Anything that can help students make that step from one institution to another is welcome," added Rhonda Elstone, who sits on Sir Sandford's board of governors.

Through the program, college staff can help high school students by telling them which courses to take in secondary school to be better prepared for college.

Early exploration of college programs will be promoted, and increased communication and co-operation will help provide a smooth transition from secondary school to college.

The board and the college will each appoint a co-ordinator to facilitate development of the programs and maintain statistics on its success.

The co-ordinators will also be responsible for maintaining communication between the schools, the board and the college. College staff will be available in the schools to provide information and counselling, college resource experts will speak to classes, students will be invited to visit the college, and there will be co-operative education opportunities at the college for secondary students.

As well, students will receive career counselling where they'll be encouraged to consider college programs which lead to careers in areas of high market demand and in non-traditional areas.

Assessment change infuriates cottager

impacts by Municipal, by ward, by property.

- the dissatisfaction factor in other jurisdictions that agreed to reassessment should be considered.

- alternatives are not being considered by the Province.

- the need for proper public meetings in which proper explanations are given, facts presented and questions answered.

We recommend that Councils be urged to resist being rushed into an irreversible assessment scheme to change assessment without sufficient firm data to be able to accurately describe its tax implications to its residents.

Councils should table the Ministry's proposal and review their position in one year's time using the year to generate the necessary data to take a properly informed and considered position. A County Task Force could be established to prepare a Report for Council that could consider all choices including whether Section 63 or Section 70 should be used for any future MVA assessments or whether MVA should be adopted at all. The Province's newly formed Tax Reform Commission recommendations could be helpful and should be considered by you before you decide.

We do not believe that during a recession is the proper time to be introducing such a dramatic shift in the tax burden and that if it is decided to implement MVA at a future point in time that it be phased in with proper caps and controls to offset undue burden on ratepayers.

The fact that interim tax bills are scheduled to be issued in January '91 is a woefully inadequate reason to rush into this venture.

Market Value Re-Assessment is a concept whose time has come ... and gone ... It's time to force the Province to consider alternatives that result in real property tax reform.

Ensure your Municipality and County Council knows your views.

To answer the questions posed in a media editorial: Is it fair? — No.

Will it cost me my seat? — Probably.

Minden man held in custody

During the week officers of the Minden Detachment investigated 47 general occurrences and 10 accidents with 3 persons injured.

Thefts around the County

Dudman Lake - model 94 Winchester .32 cal., model 94 Winchester .30 - .30 cal., 1/2" Black & Decker drill, orange, Makita grinder, Sweet Caporal cigarettes, shells for noted rifles.

Maple Lake - $20 cash.

Charged Break, Enter & Theft

Michael Mueller has been charged with numerous offences after police cleared up Break and Enters dating back to early November 1990. Mueller is scheduled to appear in Provincial Court Minden charged with five counts of Break, Enter and Theft, three counts Possession Stolen Property and one count of Public Mischief, and three counts of Breach of Probation. Mueller, 18, is from Stanhope Township.

Breach of Recognizance

Ronald Shane McKelvey, 32, of Minden has been arrested and charged with Breach of Recognizance, after it was found that McKelvey had violated a court release order. McKelvey has been held in custody for a bail hearing in Lindsay.

Injury Accidents

Two accidents resulted in three persons being injured, the first occurred late Friday, December 21 on Hwy. 503 east of the Bear Lake Road. Randolph Robins of Clinton lost control of the vehicle he was operating and went into the ditch. The driver and his wife Hoann Robins both received minor injuries. The second accident occurred during the morning of December 22 on Dover Spring Road when a sander unit operated by Kevin Hamilton spun out of control on icy roads and rolled over. Hamilton was taken to hospital with injuries.

Snowmobile Safety

Three common causes for snowmobile accidents are alcohol, speed and unsafe ice conditions, or a combination of the three. In the cold weather, alcohol does not appear to affect the user as it does during the summer, but it does. Alcohol slows reaction time and dulls the senses. Speed is a problem in that the operator either over runs their ability to stop or take evasive actions if required and at night over running headlight visibility is a common cause of accidents. Unsafe or unknown ice conditions result in many snowmobile deaths annually. If you don't know for sure, by physically checking ice thickness, stay off the ice.

Local association takes over Frost Centre's cross-country trails

On December 21, 1990 the Leslie M. Frost Centre signed an agreement with the Haliburton Nordic Trails Association to take over the Operation and Maintenance of the Centre's Cross-Country Ski Trails.

Bob Stewart, Acting Director for the Frost Centre said the partnership agreement that was signed reflects the current Ministry of Natural Resources commitment to involve the private sector where ever possible in managing natural resources.

The 22.1 km looped system provides challenging recreational skiing and serves as an on-site demonstration of trail management undertaken by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The trails will be groomed and track-set on a regular basis by the Haliburton Nordic Trails Association. Gary Baumgartner, President of the association said, "that there are two reasons for their interest in these trails. First the trails are designed for a more back-country type of skiing than the rest of our present system. Most trails are single track-set with limited skiing opportunities. Secondly, we wanted to expand our Nordic trail system to better serve skiers in the Northern part of the Haliburton Highlands. Our goal is to provide better skiing opportunities for local Dorset area resorts and eventually included them in our lodge to lodge ski program."

The intended Haliburton Nordic Trail use fees for 1990/91 will be as follows:

Daily

One Day - $6.00; Two Day - $10.00; Child - $1.00; Student - $3.00; 1/2 Day Adult (after 2:00 p.m.) - $3.00.

Memberships

Student - $50.00; Individual - $80.00; Family $120.00.

Group Discounts

20 Persons (min.) - 25% discount; 45 Persons (min.) - 50% discount.

Please note: Although trails are groomed and track-set, there are presently no ski patrols on the system, so skiers should travel with a companion and bring appropriate clothing and food to spend the day out of doors. Ski Shelters, located on longer trails, are equipped with wood stoves, firewood and washroom facilities.

Top Canadian racers from one end of the country to the other are also coming. Terry Streeper of Fort Nelson, B.C., who placed second in the Unlimited Class at the Canadian Open Sled Dog Races on December 15th and 16th is coming, as are Paul-Emile and Wilson Levesque, two brothers from Kamouraska, Quebec, who have placed extremely well at Minden in recent years.

The Main Street start and finish ensures that spectators have a ring-side view of the exciting action provided by these outstanding athletes, both human and canine. Racing starts each day at 10 a.m. The delightful kid-and-mutt race will be held on Saturday after the official heats are concluded. As always, everyone is invited to visit the "pit" area throughout the weekend to talk with the mushers and look over the dogs and puppies.

There will also be demonstrations of kick-sledding on Main Street between the eight- and four-dog heats, and spectators will have a chance to try this growing sport for themselves. "Catch The Drift", a song written and recorded by local musicians, will be the theme song for the entire weekend and "Drifter", the race mascot, will be on hand to greet visitors as well.

DEADLINE FOR APPEALING YOUR 1990 PROPERTY ASSESSMENT

Tuesday, January 8th, 1991

The final day for appealing your 1990 property assessment to the Assessment Review Board is Tuesday, January 8th, 1991. Your assessment will be used to calculate your 1991 municipal and school taxes.

This deadline does not apply to the County of Haliburton and the County of Peterborough which are considering a reassessment for the 1991 tax year.

You should appeal your 1990 property assessment (a) if you are dissatisfied with the amount of the assessment, even after discussing it with your Regional Assessment Office; (b) if you appealed your previous assessment and the appeal has not been settled; or (c) if you received a Notice of Property Valuation which does not reflect a settlement of your previous appeal.

The Assessment Review Board is an agency of the Ministry of the Attorney General and operates less formally than a court of law. It is authorized to decide if your property assessment is fair and equitable, compared with similar properties in your area. You may present your own case, retain a lawyer, or ask a friend or relative to act as your agent.

A Notice of Appeal form is available from your municipal office, your Regional Assessment Office, or the Assessment Review Board. You may also use the reverse side of a Notice of Property Valuation or write a letter. Appeals should be forwarded in writing to the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board at the address shown below.

If you have any questions or require assistance in filing the appeal, please contact your Regional Assessment Office. The address and telephone number are in the Blue Pages of your telephone directory, under "Property Assessment Information."

Editor:

We have read with interest your recent articles regarding the present situation on the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge, United Church of Canada.

The Lindsay Presbytery, United Church of Canada, wishes to affirm the right of any person who desires to leave the United Church of Canada and who proposes to form a community of faith. Those who have chosen to leave the United Church of Canada and form a congregation in the Reform Church in Canada, go with our best wishes.

Although it is a matter of concern and distress for us when congregations find themselves in situations of conflict and disagreement over issues within the United Church of Canada, we believe that our responsibility as a Presbytery--having oversight of all pastoral charges and congregations within our bounds--is to provide on-going pastoral care, support and encouragement to all those who desire to continue as members of the United Church of Canada. The Lindsay Presbytery must also ensure that any period of transition in the life of a pastoral charge or congregation be carried out in an orderly fashion.

The past four months have proven successful for the Lindsay Presbytery, for the persons wishing to remain with the United Church of Canada on the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge, and for those who have taken the decision to leave the United Church of Canada and form a new community within the structure of the Reform Church in Canada.

The Lindsay Presbytery of the United Church of Canada received two communications relating to actions taken by the Trustees of the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge and Maurice Bradley respectively. The first action sent to us by the trustees named was: "that congregations of the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge cease to exist as of September 27, 1990 at 12:01 a.m." The second communication was a letter from Maurice Bradley stating: "Since I am a member of the Highland Grove Congregation, and as they cease to be part of the United Church as of this day September 27, 1990, I therefore now request that my resignation be effective as of this day September 27, 1990."

In response to receiving this information, a special meeting of the Lindsay Presbytery Executive was called for September 30, 1990. I would like to point out at this time that under the regulations (the policy) that governs the United Church of Canada, neither a congregation nor a pastoral charge can disband itself or cease to exist without reference to the Presbytery in which it resides. Individuals may leave the church, but the congregation remains. Also, properties, real and personal, are held in trust for the United Church of Canada under the Trusts of Model Deed Act, 1925.

Thus, the congregations of the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge did not cease to exist as of September 27, 1990. Due to the action taken by the trustees of the Charge and the resignation of Maurice Bradley, it was clear to the Lindsay Presbytery that the above were not prepared to carry out their role as Trustees for the United Church of Canada.

Therefore, the Lindsay Presbytery by motion at the Executive meeting of September 30, 1990 assumed trusteeship, in accordance with the procedures laid out in the Manual of the United Church of Canada.

Contrary to the impression painted in your newspaper that the Lindsay Presbytery has been uncommunicative and unresponsive to the situation on the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge, we believe the reverse is true. A steady list of correspondence, telephone conversations and meetings with Maurice Bradley and members of his congregation has taken place. The communication has taken both formal (motions and letters) and informal routes (conversation with individual members of the Presbytery and the Reform Church congregation.)

The position of Lindsay Presbytery, the United Church of Canada, is clear and consistent. (1) On behalf of the United Church of Canada, we hold in trust all properties, real and personal, of the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge. (2) The Lindsay Presbytery shall continue to provide pastoral care and support (financial and spiritual), and regular worship services on the Tory Hill Pastoral Charge. (3) The Lindsay Presbytery remains open to enter into discussions with the congregation of the Reform Church of Canada under the leadership of Maurice Bradley to negotiate "non-conflicting use" of the church buildings for worship and nurture.

To this end, we have committed ourselves to meet with Maurice Bradley and members of his congregation on January 3, 1991 at 7:30 p.m. at Haliburton United Church.

HHSS Redmen cap off growth period with a 5-4 win

The HHSS Redmen broke for the Christmas holidays with a win December 19 as they defeated Norwood 5 - 4. Earlier in the week, the Redmen found themselves on the other side of a 5 - 4 score, losing to Lakefield during an away game.

The game capped a period of growth and consolidation for the Redmen that has positioned them for the run-up to the play-offs.

Scoring for the Redmen in the Lakefield game was by Corbie Kent with a pair, Darren Johnson and Chris Bradford. The Wednesday night goals were scored by Darren Johnson with two, Jason Morissette, Wyatt Nesbitt and Greg Stamp.

The Redmen return to the ice January 8 for an afternoon contest in Peterborough against Kenner Collegiate. The action returns to the Dysart Arena January 9 as HHSS hosts Lakefield. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Norwood goalie is poised to pounce as a Redmen player battles with a defenseman for the puck.

Sid Stamp Fuels vies for first place

Sid Stamp Fuels has moved to within three points of first place in the Minden Men's Hockey League.

With a 9-6 win over Westside Jug City on Dec. 17, Stamp inched a little closer and threatens Home Hardware's season-long strangle-hold on top spot.

Westside opened the scoring on a goal by Mike Keaney, but Stamp's Bruce Denniston tied it up and Ivan Ingram netted the go-ahead goal to end the first period.

Stamp's lead was increased to two goals when Ingram scored again at the top of the second frame.

Dave Hartwick put Westside right back in the game when he scored the next two goals to tie it up at 3-3. Stamp regained the lead at the end of the second period on a goal by Brian Shaw.

Derek Allison led off the scoring in the third period to tie the two teams a four goals apiece. Stamp regained the lead briefly on a goal by Ingram, only to have Hartwick take it away with his third goal of the night.

Mid-way through the third period, Stamp broke the game open when Shaw, Ingram and Denniston scored three consecutive goals to secure an 8-5 lead.

Westside managed one more, courtesy of Corey Walker, which was followed by a goal by Stamp's Kim Colliss, rounding out to scoring at 9-6.

Home Hardware and The Times battled it out to a 4-4 tie, as Home's seven-game winning streak slipped farther away.

Jim Crawford of The Times scored the lone goal of the first period to take an early lead, but Home's Jeff Stamp tied the game to start the second period.

The Times appeared to put the game out of reach when Andy McKenzie scored two goals and Doug Allison added a third to make the score 4-1 at the start of the third period.

Unwilling to go down for the count, Fraser Rogers, Ken Barry and Stamp scored three successive Home points to catch The Times and escape with a 4-4 tie.

In the third game of the evening Hartwick Construction and the Rockcliffe Tavern fought a see-saw battle that ended with Hartwick claiming a 8-5 victory.

All the scoring in the game was done by just six players as Scott Hamilton lead Hartwick shooters with four goals followed by Wayne Dickenson with two. Kevin Mills and Dave Pettes each scored one.

Jeff Howe scored four of Rockcliffe's five goals with Sid McKeigan scoring a single.

Men's League games resume on Jan. 7.

Is baldness a defect to be cured?

On October 24, NBC's TODAY show featured a report on the status of the Human Genome Project (HGP), the attempt by scientists to determine the exact sequence of the three billion letters coded in the DNA of a human cell.

This is an immense undertaking that could cost as much as $3 billion, occupy thousands of PhDs for years, employ the most advanced super computers and yield priceless insights into how genetic information is coded and regulated. But the NBC report dwelt exclusively on the potential application of this knowledge to correct human disease.

When the HGP is completed, the reporter said, geneticists believe that cures for many diseases will result.

Scientists often justify their work with such optimistic claims, but the history of diseases such as diabetes and sickle cell anemia show that even when the molecular basis of a disease is understood, "cures" require far more information about the biology of cells and organs.

The almost exclusive focus on the prospect of the correction of defects exaggerates the immediate

Reflections

by David Suzuki

potential benefits of the HGP while downplaying the far greater longterm implications of the basic knowledge.

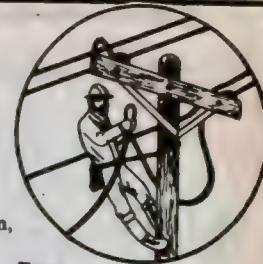

The TV item ended when the reporter teased TODAY host, Joe Garigiola that it "will soon be possible to cure baldness." The remark elicited lighthearted banter, a perfectly normal condition — baldness — was converted into a defect to be cured. Baldness is hereditary and thus, in principle, alterable. But it is an abuse of language to call it an abnormality. To be fair, the reporter was joking with Garigiola who in turn observed that perhaps scientists ought to concentrate on more serious problems first.

The TODAY report was funny but only two days later, a story appeared in the Toronto Star headlined "Test-tube hair hailed as a 'breakthrough'."

Tri-County PeeWees squeeze out a 3-2 win against Bobcaygeon

The Minden Tri-County Pee Wees travelled to Bobcaygeon on Friday, December 21 and squeezed out a 3-2 win. The team was lucky with their lacklustre effort to gain the two points.

They certainly seem to have other things on their minds than good hockey. The first period ended in a scoreless tie and Andrew Crego opened the scoring at 9:30 of the second when he made a nice rush with his two forwards.

He cut in from left wing, deked the Bobcaygeon goalie and deposited a backhand into the twine. A minute and seventeen seconds later, Marty Dettman scored on a hard shot assisted by Bobbie Griffin.

Bobcaygeon narrowed the gap at 7:07 to end the second period, 2-1 for Minden.

Todd Redgrave scored what proved the winner at 9:42 of the third period with an unassisted effort.

Bobcaygeon scored with 2:46 remaining in the game and pulled their goalie with 1:36 left and Minden managed to hold off the final Bobcaygeon attack. Final score, Minden 3 Bobcaygeon 2.

Minden Tri-County Pee Wees travel to Haliburton for a 6 p.m. game on Friday January 4, the first game for Minden in 1991. Have a good new year.

Possible economic returns a consideration in funding for scientists

It was reported that hair had been grown in culture and could now be used to test "potential baldness cures" and one of the scientists hailed the technique as a "breakthrough" and promised that "bald men can be reassured that there will ultimately be a cure."

The article ended by pointing out that "pharmaceutical companies pour millions every year into the search for a baldness cure."

We must not forget that billions of dollars could be spent on the HGP so there will be enormous pressure on scientists to use the information to recover some of that investment. When it comes to making money, selling a product, not alleviation of human suffering, is the main priority.

Few people would seriously claim that baldness is in the same category as cystic fibrosis or muscular dystrophy, but the potential economic returns from growing hair on bald heads are vastly greater while a product may be much easier to develop than a cure for one of these genuine diseases.

If you don't think that money can affect scientific priorities, look at Walter Gilbert, a Harvard Nobel laureate in molecular genetics. He was one of the first scientists to set up a biotechnology company, Biogen, and called the HGP the "Holy Grail of Biology."

In early 1987, Gilbert created a new company, Genome Corporation, which would try to decipher the human genetic code. He proposed to copyright the sequence and sell the information on the open market, even though countless scientists and government grants around the world had made such work possible.

In the end, Gilbert wasn't able to raise the needed venture capital, it wasn't for lack of chutzpah or trying.

Much of the information from the HGP that will be usable will concern rare hereditary conditions. Profit in the free enterprise system is usually determined by market size.

In the past, markets have been created for products. So when bacteria were genetically engineered to produce human growth hormone for dwarfs, supply soon overran demand.

In true capitalistic fashion, the hormone was made available to children who are perfectly normal but fall on the short end of height distribution. By calling normal short stature a defect, one can justify this use of a genetic product.

During a discussion with a television audience, I was once asked "When will you geneticists cure the disease of old age?" My answer then was that aging is not a disease, but my questioner was not convinced.

Yet if baldness and aging are defects to be "cured", where will we draw the line, at skin colour, eye size or IQ? In our exuberance over the potential benefits of the HGP, we had better spend far more time considering the longterm implications and exploitation of this knowledge.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Lindsay theatre gears up for spring

Lindsay Little Theatre is already gearing up for its third annual spring musical, and has chosen Stephen Sondheim's hilarious "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum", a delightfully satirical musical comedy set in ancient Rome, as this year's offering. Originally presented on Broadway in 1962, it ran for 964 performances and starred the wonderful Zero Mostel.

All interested actors and singers are warmly invited to audition being held at 7 p.m., January 8 and 9 at the Academy Theatre. Previous experience definitely not necessary, but come prepared to sing, preferably with music. The rehearsal dates, time and locations will be announced very shortly after the auditions.

"A Funny Thing..." will be presented April 5, 6, 11, 12 and 13 at the Academy Theatre, and since it boasts the same production team of Mary Carr, musical director, Kathy Evans, choreographer, and Gayle Greenslade, artistic director, which mounted the previous two musicals, "7 Brides for 7 Brothers", and "Anything Goes", it promises to be a very entertaining production.

Tickets for "A Funny Thing..." will be available at the end of January, and the price is $6.50 per ticket, or $5.50 for twenty or more.

Santa and his elves visit residents on Christmas morning

Happy Holiday season to all my readers.

The ladies from Our Lady of Fatima, Minden Catholic Church brought our Thursday Tea Party. They were accompanied by Father Felix who played and sang Christmas carols during our tea party, this was lovely. Since this was the Birthday Tea the ladies brought a beautiful birthday cake for the residents who had birthdays in December. They were Annie Schultz, Gertie McKay, Reg Booth, and Lillian Curry who was 102 years old December 10, 1990. The lunch was delicious and we thank you all immensely.

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Again, Thursday evening Marg Prentice called bingo for us, and gave each of us a desk calendar. We surely thank her, she looks as though she enjoys bingo with us.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown were here to see Pearl Lyle Friday.

Friday at noon we had a beautiful luncheon from the Management of Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home, for which the residents thank them very much. The luncheon was prepared by Llyn Shirley - Dietary Supervisor, Doris Robertson - Activities Supervisor and helped by the kitchen staff. At this luncheon a staff member waited on the resident beside him. It was a delicious luncheon. During the meal four draws were made for a turkey. The first draw was ticket seller, Alice Todd - winner Dianna Morris, second seller, Alice Rivers - winner Neva Hobden, third seller, Marie McPhail - winner Janet Horsley, fourth seller, Mary McKelvey - winner Ruby Graham. Two members of the management were present, Gary McKnight, County Administrator and Rheta Jones, Administrator of Hyland Crest. We were happy to have them present. Ursula Nietsch played the accordion, and sang carols before lunch and after lunch we adjourned to the main lounge for a sing-song. We thank Ursula very much for entertaining us. The residents do appreciate it.

Last week Bernice Lydiatt, of R.R. 1 Minden presented us with a beautiful gingerbread house decorated with jelly beans, etc.

We thank her from the bottom of our hearts.

The Residents thank the people who gave flowers, candy, fruit, etc. We really appreciate your kindness.

Christmas morning we had our breakfast and were in the main lounge by nine o'clock. It was not long till we heard Ho-Ho-Ho, and Santa and his elves appeared. After greeting us all they went quickly to work. It seemed no time till everyone had received a lovely gift, and Llyn Shirley set out crackers, cheese and a delightful assortment of fruit, for a snack. Many of the residents families came to take them out for the rest of the day. Those who remained here had a delicious Christmas dinner. Some had relatives come to have dinner with them. Everyone had an enjoyable Christmas.

Our sympathy is extended to the relatives and friends of Ada Turrall who passed away December 26, 1990 in her 89th year.

Ontario Health Card should only be used for health services

Are you one of the approximately nine million Ontarians who have registered for your new Ontario Health Card from the Ministry of Health?

As an Ontario resident, you'll be asked to present the card when you visit your doctor after January 1, 1991. The Health Card, a replacement for the former Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) card, identifies you as a person eligible to receive insured medical services.

The registration program for the Ontario Health Card was launched on March 21, 1990. "The response to the registration program has surpassed all our expectations," says Evelyn Gigantes, Ontario Minister of Health. "The swift action of the public in adopting the new Health Card system is much appreciated by the Ministry."

Each Ontario Health Card number is personal, confidential and valid for life. "The new card should be used only as a form of identification for health related services," cautions Dr. Robert MacMillan, Executive Director, Health Insurance Division, Ministry of Health. "The Health Number cannot be demanded as identification for any purpose other than health related services."

Seniors receive the Health 65 card, which entitles them to Ontario Drug Benefit as well as the privileges they received with the former Senior Citizens Privilege card.

"We really appreciate the supportive response shown by doctors and hospitals concerning the transition from the OHIP system to the new Health Card," says Dr. MacMillan. "They see the need for continued improvement in planning and allocating resources at the local level and recognize that the introduction of the Health Card will help us reach these goals."

Nothing comes without a price tag, but the one-time cost of $30 million to start the program will contribute to a savings of more than $1.5 billion over the next ten years. The Health Card itself will be directly responsible for one tenth of the savings—a result of updating all the Ministry's Information technology.

One of the main benefits to the cardholder is confidentiality. Family group registration no longer exists; only one number is assigned to each person. Each card will be as unique as the signature on the back. Personal health information is a matter between you and your physician. Health care information is available to the Ministry in order to pay medical claims.

A Health Card registration form was distributed to every household in Ontario last spring. Each forum has space for ten separate applicants and is accompanied by a return envelope. If you didn't receive a form or need a new one, they're available at any post office, doctor's office, clinic or Ministry of Health office.

Once you receive your new Health Card, sign the back and be sure to carry it at all times. Be ready to present the card to your doctor, hospital or any other health service provider when requested.

If you have any questions about the Health Card, visit your local Ministry of Health office.
